

Eric Ochmanek

Program Director - ABLER today, National Association of State Treasurers

Eric Ochmanek leads ABLER today, which advances financial empowerment for people with disabilities by increasing their awareness of ABLER accounts. ABLER today directly engages the disability community through national outreach, developing resources, and fostering partnerships for all ABLER programs.

In 2016, Eric worked to launch one of the first ABLER programs. He developed the in-state and national outreach for what would become one of the most utilized ABLER programs in the country. He has traveled throughout the country to connect people with disabilities to ABLER accounts and build partnerships within the disability, financial, legal, and support service communities.

Previously, Eric worked for British Petroleum in the North America Gas division, the White House Office of Presidential Advance, and the U.S. Department of Health and Human Services in the Office of the Secretary.

Eric is a graduate of Adrian College (Adrian, MI). He and his wife enjoy volunteering at their sons' school and for their sports teams.
