Congratulations on your participation in the Ticket to Work program. We hope this publication is informative and helps you to be successful in the program.

Will you review my disability while I am in the program?

We will not review your disability as long as you make progress in the Ticket to Work program. (If we started a disability review before you began participating, we will finish the review.) If you have any questions about the Ticket to Work program, call the Ticket Call Center toll-free at 1-866-968-7842, or TTY 1-866-833-2967.

How does Social Security determine my progress?

Your participation in the Ticket to Work program began when you signed an agreement with an employment network or state vocational rehabilitation agency. With their help, you developed an employment plan. While you are in the program, we will review your progress in achieving the goals of your employment plan every 12 months.

The following table explains how we determine whether you are making timely progress.

As well as the items in this chart, earning a high school diploma or GED will satisfy the educational requirement for the first 12-month review.

What happens if I am not making progress?

If we determine that you are not making progress in the Ticket to Work program, we will no longer suspend future medical reviews. You may continue in the Ticket program even if we find that you are not making progress.

What if I start making progress again?

Whenever you think you are making progress again, you should contact the Ticket Call Center. We will make a decision about your progress. As long as you meet the disability rules, qualify to take part in the Ticket to Work program and start making progress as expected, we will not begin a medical review.

*In 2015, we consider earnings over $1,090 (over $1,820 if you are blind) to be substantial.
What if I disagree with the decision?

Once we make our decision, we will send you a letter explaining it. If you disagree with the decision, you have 30 days to ask Social Security to review it.

Working and your benefits

How do my earnings affect my benefits?

If you have completed your trial work period, are working, and have substantial earnings, we may stop your Social Security disability benefits. We can quickly start your benefits again if your income drops, or you stop work and are still disabled.

As your earnings increase, we reduce your Supplemental Security Income (SSI) payment amount until your earnings reach a high enough level that you are no longer eligible to receive a benefit payment. We count less than half of your earnings when figuring your SSI payment.

For an explanation of how earnings affect your benefits, get a copy of Working While Disabled—How We Can Help (Publication No. 05-10095). You can get a copy by visiting our website, www.socialsecurity.gov, or calling our toll-free number, 1-800-772-1213 (TTY 1-800-325-0778).

What happens to my health benefits?

Your Medicare may continue for at least 8½ years after you start to work if you are still disabled. Your Medicaid also may continue, depending on the state where you live and the amount of your earnings.
